ESET and Réseau Santé Social partner to offer the best security offering for health professionals.

Pavillons-sous-Bois, April 1st 2010, ESET through Athena Global Services, and le Réseau santé social, the first provider of Internet services and access in France, dedicated to the medical world, have signed a partnership to offer to le Réseau santé social customers, a proactive security solution against all vulnerable entry points of the network, the Pack Sécurité PC.

Including antivirus, antispyware, antispam and firewall, the Pack Sécurité PC with ESET Smart Security 4 protects PCs and servers without impeding the SESAM-Vitale flux.

Perfectly suited for medical practices of one or more practitioners, ESET's solution and le Réseau santé social preserves their desktops from Internet threats such as viruses, worms, Trojans, spywares and adwares, rootkits, phishing and other malicious codes. The Pack Sécurité PC is offered for a very attractive monthly price.

Included in the offer Pack Santé PRO ADSL of le Réseau Santé Social, Pack Sécurité PC based on ESET Smart Security 4 provides the guarantee of optimal security while being almost imperceptible in its operation. Also the interface is very simple to use; what is essential for the professionals of health, often novices in computing, and who above all has to dedicate their time to their patients.

Some antivirus programs do not recognize specific flows of Health Insurance. Now, with ESET and the file settings, developed by le Réseau santé social for health management filtering rules specific to the tele-transmission of e-claim health reimbursement, the user gets seamlessly updates necessary for the proper functioning of its activity.

"Several times awarded by Virus Bulletin, the independent laboratory of comparative tests the most recognized and respected in the world, the solution ESET Smart Security 4 appeared to us as the most comprehensive, efficient and simple offer to provide to our members," said Franck Frayer, Director General of le Réseau santé social "The good image complementary to ours in terms of dynamism and modernity of the company ESET, also seduced us."

The partnership between ESET via Athena Global Services, and le Réseau santé social will also extend to the training network of 200 resellers of le Réseau santé social. So Athena Global Services will present its solutions to companies specializing with health professionals who play the role of local actors in regions.

Athena Global Services also participated in the training of persons responsible for the hotline of le Réseau santé social located at headquarter in Rueil-Malmaison, in order to provide the expertise needed for their work of sales and technical support.

"Through this partnership, health professionals win in security but also in simplicity, and we are happy to help them focus on their business" said Thierry Cossavella, CEO of Athena Global Services.
